ORDER FORM

Completed Boat without GPS Unit:

All you need to do is epoxy the mast and keel in place, rig the sail and go sailing. Note this does not include the GPS unit which is sold separately. $ 1,500

Kit Boats:

For experienced builders only. Ask for our Construction Manual or check it out at our website. Then give us a call at (207) 322-1901. Starting at $ 1000

GPS Options

We use two different GPS units according to your needs. We want to make sure you get the right unit for your needs, so we suggest you call so we are clear on the capabilities you want. We encase the GPS units in fiberglass to ensure they are thoroughly waterproofed, and we recommend that you install your unit below deck..

Global Star GPS Unit:

We have used this unit for years. It is reliable but limited. It has good coverage of the North Atlantic but is limited in other oceans. This unit has to be programmed by us to report its position at certain times each day. Once the frequency is set it cannot be changed. In addition this unit only has one way communication and only reports its position which is fine for studying winds & currents. It will not support sensors for research. $ 600

Iridium GPS Unit:

This unit has several important advantages in that it gives complete worldwide coverage. It also allows two-way communication with your boat making it possible to send data from onboard sensors to your computer allowing real time research. You can also change the frequency you receive position reports which means as your boat approaches shore you can make it report every hour so you'll have a much easier time locating & recovering your boat at sea or after it lands. $ 800
